

What does BILY offer?

BILY offers parent-to-parent support, education, and awareness of community resources.

We provide tools and methodologies that promote structure and consistency on the part of the parent and responsibility, accountability, and progression toward self-reliance on the part of the child.

BILY is run by parent volunteers who've "been there, done that" and are now generously giving their time to "pay it forward."

Confidentiality is paramount.
What is discussed at BILY, stays at BILY.

We offer an environment where parents feel comfortable sharing the struggles they are facing, which is essential if ineffective parenting patterns are to be broken.

We encourage parents to set their own goals for their household, and we support them as they work toward attaining those goals.

Our meetings are free of charge.

Our operational costs are paid for with the generous donations of many individual and corporate sponsors who support the mission and cause of BILY San Diego.

If you think BILY may be of help to you, We invite you to make a reservation to attend an orientation meeting. This will give you the opportunity to see firsthand how our program works.

Feel free to call if you have questions or would like more information about the BILY program.

We've Been There

Because I Love You is a parent-to-parent support group run by volunteers. We help parents who are struggling or in crisis due to behavior problems of their children. Our groups are made up of parents whose children range in age from pre-teen through and including adult. Parents come to BILY for support in dealing with problems that range from disrespect and irresponsibility to drug use, truancy, and trouble with the law. Our mission is to provide parent-to-parent support and equip parents with tools to create a peaceful home.

Groups meet
Monday evenings
from 7-9 pm

Reservations are recommended
